

Animal Medicines Australia welcomes new Vice-President and new Board Directors

Animal Medicines Australia's Annual General Meeting was held in Sydney on 9 November 2017.

As a result of that meeting, Animal Medicines is pleased to announce that members of Animal Medicines Australia appointed Mr Andrew Palmer, Head of Animal Health, Boehringer Ingelheim as Vice-President. Mr Palmer brings extensive commercial experience to the new Vice-President position having held significant leadership roles in Australia and globally.

Members also appointed two new Directors to fill existing vacancies on the Board. Mr Joe Bown, Head of Sales and Marketing at Jurox, and Lyndon Constable, Country Manager Australia and New Zealand at Vetoquinol were welcomed to the Board.

President Andrew Mason congratulated Mr Palmer on his appointment as Vice-President and congratulated Mr Bown and Mr Constable on their appointments to the Board. Mr Mason thanked the Board of Directors, members and the AMA team for a successful 2017 and noted the strong foundation that has been established for further success in 2018.
